The Q Exchange programme supports projects across the UK that are innovating improvement practice whilst delivering work that benefits local people and communities. The award is selected by a large community of improvement experts nationwide. Our funding grant has enabled us to design and develop our programme Coaching for System Improvement that has now been delivered to three cohorts of senior leaders and clinician from across our health and care community. The programme has been well received and enables leaders to support teams collaborating to deliver complex change projects across organisational boundaries, so that we can improve health and wellbeing outcomes for people in Gloucestershire. Part of the remit of the grant from the Health Foundation is the criteria to share and disseminate our work. This enables other health and care communities to learn from our experience, and we also gain highly valuable feedback for the continued development of our approach. During 2025 we shared project updates at a number of national events we were already attending and through online webinars. There has been increasing interest in our work and we have now been invited to present our work at the IHI (Institute of Healthcare Improvement) Forum which is the leading European conference on Quality Improvement. The Health Foundation have expressly supported that some of the grant funds should be used to support the Project Lead attending this conference, in Oslo in March 2026. The plans to attend have been approved through ICB senior leadership. The governance team have also advised that we have effectively mitigated against any conflict of interest or potential conflict of interest.	£2,350.00	Health Foundation	Health Services	Attending will enable other health and care communities to learn from our experience, and we also gain highly valuable feedback for the continued development of our approach.
